ANOTHER HORRID DEATH—On Sunday morning, 11th inst. John Thomas, Jr. of Nottingham, who lives at a neighbor's and told that his mother was dead. The neighbor suspected something was wrong, and with others, went to the house. In the kitches were as Irishman and wife, in a state of intoxication, who had called the night before for lodging. In an adjoining bedroom, on the bed, lay the body of Mrs. T. in its usual dress, with its free down; and its another room was found Mr. T. the husband, dead drank! It seems that the evening previous this Irishman had purchased a large jug of rum near by, and carried it to this bouse. All drank, and the mother lost her life in the quarrel that followed. There were marks of violence on her body. This son, a reckless, inhuman wretch, is undoubsedly the perpetrator of his mother's death.

FLOOD IN THE YAZOO RIVER.—The Democration the 31st uit published at Carrollton, Miss. says: The Yazoo River is now several inches higher than it has ever been within the memory of the "oldest inhabit ant." The causeways, both to Greenwood and Leilore, are overflowed in many places, and the bridges have floated off. The two villages are themselves well night luundated, and at last accounts the river was still rising. All intercourse has ceased with the river, and we are at a loss to know when it may be resumed. It appears as though the Mississippi had left its hed and is precipitating its impetuous current through the pass into our gentle Yazoo—thus inundating our fine bottom-lands and bearing off every impediment in its way.

DEATH OF GOVERNOR WILSON.—Speaking of the death of Gov. Wilson of South Carolina, the Charleston Mercury says: "He was a native of George town, and at an early period of his life rose to distinction at the bar. After serving many years in the Legislature, and having been President of the Sonate, but was, in 1852, elected Governor of the State. He was a man of uncommon powers of mind and remarkable-energy of character, and at one time wielded great in duence in the politics of the State. Since his Governor ship, he has resided in Charleston, taking but little part in public affairs, and confining himself to the duties of his profession."

The New-Jersey Iron Works at Boon ton, Morts Co. have just stopped work, and would have stopped five months ago but for fortunate contracts entered into in 1847. The stoppage of the rolling-mill, says a correspondent of the Newark Daily Adventuer, (writing from Boonton,) throws about 250 mean out of employment directly, and a much larger number indirectly. On the 7,000 tons of railroad iron which we made last year, not less than $50 per ton, amounting to $350,000, was paid for labor in the different branches of manufacture and transportation of material, giving employment to not less than 1,000 men and support to their families.

THE BRITISH MAIL STEAMERS.—The inhabitants of St. John, New Brunswick, are getting up a putilion, praying the Legislature of the province to interpose its influence to prevent the English mails being sent through the United States to Canada, or the mail steamers from preceeding to Boston and New-York direct, without touching at Halifax, both which moverance are stated to be in contemplation. The contractors for the express mails have already received notice that their services will not be required after the St. April next.

Naw Mode of Fishing.—The Waterform (Wis.)

Carensole says: The lishing at Beaver Dam continues as good as ever. Tons of the finest pickerel have this Winter been taken there. At an sir-hole in the ice, a few miles above the village, sha are taken in large quantities with a common pitch-fork! Incredible as this may appear, it is nevertheless true. One man, the other day, caught a cord of fash in this way, in the course of a few hours.

MOVEMENT AGAINST SLAVERY IN ALRAMA.—Judge Hydenfelt, a prominent and leading Democrat of Alabama, has addressed through the press a letter to Gov. Chapman, urging the propriety and necessity of a law to prevent the farther immigration of slaves into that State, either for trade or settlement. The Adams Journal says "the article is ably written, and there are many reasons why such a law would prove of advantage if its execution was practicable."
